To whom it may concern

This is to certify Miss Kandati Kusuma, a dedicated and diligent researcher under my supervision, has successfully conducted the research work titled " Role of probiotics in mitigating cisplatin induced toxicity in a rat model" as part of her academic pursuits. I am pleased to provide my unequivocal endorsement that she is the primary author and contributor to the research work described herein. Moreover, I would like to highlight Kusuma's excellent collaboration and communication skills, which were instrumental in working effectively with other team members and colleagues. She actively engaged in academic discussions, seminars, and conferences, showcasing a keen interest in sharing her research findings and knowledge with the scientific community.

I am proud to inform you that the research work conducted by Kusuma received the AP-state Best student of the year award-2023 by honourable chief minister of Andhra Pradesh and also received Best Presentation Award at the International Conferences and has made a valuable contribution to the field of Probiotics for Cancer management. As evidence of her accomplishments, I would like to provide the citation for the research work, which has received 20 citations in short time.

I am confident that she will continue to make meaningful and lasting contributions to the Biomedical Sciences community and beyond. Their work serves as an inspiration to fellow researchers and students, and their commitment to the betterment of science aligns perfectly with the values of this esteemed award. It is with great pleasure to provide willing to her nomination for the Sun Pharma Science Foundation Science Scholar Awards-2024 is being forwarded with good faith in the nominee's candidature for the award.
