

Awards and Recognitions

Dr. S. Jackson Durairaj has been honoured with several prestigious awards, including:

Early Career Research Award (2016) by DST-SERB for the project entitled “Silencing of TCTP gene expression to study the regeneration in earthworm Perionyx excavatus” (as a PI) File No: ECR/2016/000956

Maulana Azad National Fellowship (2011) by UGC for the project entitled on “Comparative studies on regeneration biology and identification of diagnostic target for prostate cancer” University Grants Commission, New Delhi, India.

Research Excellence Award (2023) by the Institute of Scholars (InSc). For the publication in Scientific Report. Title: Exploring the effect of UV-C radiation on earthworm and understanding its genomic integrity in the context of H2AX expression.

These awards underscore his research excellence and contribution to advancing scientific knowledge.