TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

She is a Ph.D student/research scholar at Department of Pharmacy in Central University of Rajasthan and executed research studies on a project entitled “Biotin Engineered HPMANanoparticles and Effective Targeting of Bortezomib: In Vitro and In Vivo” during the 2nd year of her PhD under my direct supervision. Ms. Sarita had worked as a Project Assistant-II in CSIR-IIIM (Indian Institute of Integrative Medicine) research lab for more than 9 months. She enrolled in the Ph.D. program of the university again under my direct supervision on 10 August 2017. Ms. Sarita Rani certainly proved her merit and ability to perform in competitive examinations. Her research attitude and hard work was acknowledged by her recent publications in reputed international journals of high impact. She has 1 patent, 12 publications including research and review articles in reputed journals and 5 book chapter to her name. This attests her hard work and dedication towards research. Overall citations of Ms. Sarita is 214 (as per Google scholar). She is very attentive and incredible student of her batch and got 2nd rank in her M.Pharm. She is a responsible candidate and always made helpful and insightful comments whenever required in the discussion of seminars held in our division. She is a person with excellent oral and writing skills along with good aptitude, innovation. I am fully convinced that Ms. Sarita can lead the high-end research, and I strongly support her candidature of SUN PHARMA SCIENCE SCHOLAR AWARDS 2021 FOR YOUNG SCIENTISTS.

With thanks and regards
