To Whom It May Concern

I am writing to strongly support the nomination of Dr. Haripriya PS, a Pharm D graduate and current PhD research scholar and BAYER Fellow under my supervision since June 1st, 2022, at the Department of Radiation Oncology, Amrita Vishwa Vidyapeetham, Kochi-Campus, Kerala, India.

Dr. Haripriya's research on "Memantine for the prevention of radiation-induced cognitive dysfunction in brain metastases patients – a randomized placebo-controlled trial CTRI/2022/01/039599" demonstrates her exceptional ability and dedication. Her efforts in formulating research questions and understanding their clinical implications have been commendable. She shows a strong commitment to learning, readily accepting constructive criticism to improve her work.

Dr. Haripriya was one of 14 research scholars from India selected to present her PhD interim result as an oral presentation at the National Research Scholars Meet-2023 at ACTREC-TATA Mumbai. Additionally, she qualified as a Senior Research Fellow with the BAYER Foundation in collaboration with the Bhubaneswar City Knowledge and Innovation Centre. Her research has been published in high-impact journals and presented at international conferences, showcasing her contributions to the scientific community. Dr. Haripriya has expertise in metabolomics, systematic reviews, meta-analyses, SPSS, and R programming.

It is a privilege to nominate Dr. Haripriya PS for Sun Pharma Science Foundation Science Scholar Fellowships. Her academic excellence and research capabilities make her a deserving candidate.

Sincerely,

Dr. Debnarayan Dutta, MBBS, MD, PhD
